Letter People Etc.

May 16—Bee presenter 10a.m. (JK and Kindg. and 4\5's) here at Holy Cross.

May 19—Friday—Preschool Celebration 10a.m. to 11:30a.m.

Please keep this date open! We will have a short program, a power-point of pictures and a lunch for you and your family. The children will each have a portfolio and other art that will be given to each family. It is a nice way to end the year. I hope you can take a lunch break for a couple hours and join us! JK will have their afternoon class just like normal.

May 23—Tues. LAST DAY OF SCHOOL (No Daycare after 3:30p.m.)

* Thank you to everyone who helped sign up for the attendance at the Spring Preschool Program. We would like to know how many people will be attending so we can have enough tables and chairs. Parents, Grandparents, neighbors, are welcome. Also thank you for signing up to bring one item from the food list.

* THANK YOU ALL SO MUCH! You all have blessed me tremendously with my birthday gifts, teacher appreciation gifts, and retirement well wishes. The gift cards are wonderful! Please see my framed picture of a tree and each students name on a leaf. It says, "Teachers plant the seeds of knowledge that last a life-time." It is so special! The Botanica membership is something I will use a lot! I have received so many things I can't list them all! Thanks to all of you!

We continued making Zz things this week with an emphasis on Zebras.

Next week, we will be re-viewing the letter sounds and their names.

One child remembered our lesson back in the fall on what our initials would be. I was pleased that they all remembered what initials were and what they meant. Now, I see them writing initials instead of their name!!!

We still need lots of practice writing our numbers.

The children asked me today how old I was? I have a numberline behind my teacher chair that goes to 100. So we used the slider and we counted to 66! Along the way, I stopped and told them when I was in high school, college, married, first born son, etc. Finally I said, "I am still teaching!" We stopped on 66 for my birthday and one child said, "You are stilllllll teaching!!!! Wow!"

Have a wonderful week-end! Happy Mothers Day!

In His Service,
Mrs. Boss

Fun at School

Birthday celebrations have been abundant in our classroom! We are now celebrating May and summer birthdays. We have worked so hard making Mothers Day gifts. I hope you will enjoy what has been made with their hands. It surely comes from the heart. We have extended our Z unit this week and created some mighty fine zebras! We wondered if God made them white and then added black stripes or did God make them black and then added white stripes! I guess that is something to think about! We made our zebras white and added black stripes. We have been practicing for our Spring Program on May 19th. We will sing a cute song about insects which they each made to hold. I hope each child can have someone come and celebrate with us. It should only take a short time for the program, the portfolios and the lunch. The bee presenter next week will be in the Fellowship Hall at 10a.m. if parents would like to come and listen too you are very welcome.
